API Pull in PyCharm

A data science project built in PyCharm that uses the Request library to make a GET request of the Chuck Norris Jokes API.

About

This project receives a JSON response that is parsed to obtain the "value" key. The data associated with the value key is then displayed for the user – the Chuck Norris joke as a "pretty" output. The program allows the user to make as many requests as desired.

Link

API: https://api.chucknorris.io/jokes/random

Setup

This Python coding project was constructed on PyCharm. Please import the following libraries:

- Requests
- Json